Absence management has become a significant concern for all employers from a cost, administration and compliance perspective. This session is designed to provide HR professionals the latest information on absence trends, tools and resources to address the changing industry landscape. Additional information regarding Mercer's latest survey – "Inside Employees' Minds" will be shared in an effort to provide concepts highlighting strategic employee engagement approaches.

By the end of this session, participants will:

Have a clear understanding of the current absence trends

Legislative updates with respect to absence programs

Best practices

Data on employee engagement strategies
